I choose to pay for my XM and my partners Sirius radios due to the lack of choose on local radio stations. We both got tired of listening to the same songs every fifteen minutes or worse Clear Channel dictating what artist to play vs. what artist not to play. If local programming can not get with the program and play what the masses want than they will lose more and more listeners to satellite radio. The FCC needs to let the American people choose how they want to listen to Radio and leave the satellite alone.

Thank you
